Storm cleanup

Hancock County sandbeach maintenance crewmen were busy Monday morning removing debris left by strong winds Saturday and Sunday. The storm caused sections of Beach Boulevard and Jubilee Casino to be closed for several hours. Cooper Richard, left, and Robert Shipley collect debris for a front loader operated by Joe Hydu. J.V. Moran, foreman, said the debris included underwater grasses, which stopped the recent sandbeach renourishment in the Clermont Harbor area. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Supervisors dogged by county leash law woes

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
It was a quiet Hancock County Board of Supervisor's meeting, for the most part, until the subject of a leash law for the county was brought up.
Sonny Taylor, animal cruelty investigator for the Hancock County Humane Society, spoke to the board concerning the need for a leash law.
"People north of the interstate don't have a problem with animal control and there is not an animal cruelty problem there either. The people north of the interstate take care of problems themselves, or call the owners and ask them to come get their animals. But, there is a problem for the people living south of the interstate," Taylor said.
The supervisors, whose hands are tied for the most part, were sympathetic to the needs of the people who live south of I-10, but do not live within the city limits.
"The attorney general's opinion is that we cannot establish a leash law without putting it throughout the entire county," Lucien Gex said.
Gex was sitting in for board attorney Gerald Gex at Monday's meeting.
Board president Mike Ladner said that Gerald Gex is currently researching to find out if a different attorney general's opinion has been handed down since Hancock County received an opinion in 1990.
Taylor asked District Two Supervisor Alton "Dolph" Kellar if he knew how many complaints he has received from District Two in the past year. Kellar said that he did not know.
"None," Taylor said.
"Then, why should I punish the people in my district if they do not have a problem. I'm telling you, we have been through

Jubilee takes hit in storm

BY MARY G. SEILEY
High winds and high water teamed up Saturday to rip some bulkheading loose at Jubilee Casino.
A seawall in front of an adjoining pier also was damaged.
The bad weather forced a temporary shutdown of the crowded casino, with a late afternoon evacuation of Jubilee Casino's chief operating officer, George Baxter, surveyed damages to bulkheads near the casino Monday. A strong tropical system that did some damage to Jubilee forced a temporary shutdown of the casino's operations. The casino re-opened for business Sunday afternoon. (Echo Staff Photo by Mary G. Depot on track

Restoration project extended to January

BY MARY G. SEILEY
State officials have agreed to give the city of Bay St. Louis more time to get plans ready for the renovation of the CSX depot.
Mayor Eddie Favre said Tuesday the state Department of Transportation bumped the city's deadline from Sept. 30 to Jan. 6 for submitting plans for the restoration project.
"The train is on the right track," Favre told City Council in updating the status of the project. Councilman James Thriffiley said while that may be so, "The train is running a little late."
Federal transportation officials announced a $580,000 grant last year for the city to restore the historic depot. But a series of roadblocks has had the project bogged down for months. The latest setback was dealt by federal officials who said the city's negotiated price to buy the property is too low.
Favre said Tuesday city officials are working to resolve that issue, and that hopefully the city will take title to the property soon. Council then has to hire an architect to design the restoration.
In other matters Tuesday, council agreed to pay a private contractor $1,000 to clear a state-owned lot in the 400 block of Easterbrook Street. Two councilmen, however, were against that action.
Councilman James J. Rutherford contended the city never would recover the $1,000 from the state. And council President Charles Scianna said the city has no ordinance allowing it to clear wooded lots, such as the parcel at issue.
"I wouldn't like to see us pay this kind of money to have it cleaned," said Scianna.
The mayor said city crews could clear the lot for far less than $1,000, and Bay St. Louis could petition the state for ownership of the lot. The property fell into state hands for back taxes, city officials say.
How best to deal with the partly-wooded property has been raised several times at council meetings.
Councilman Thomas Farve, who represents the area, said he is tired of fielding complaints over the lot. He declined Rutherford's request to post-

Merchants Fair

The Diamondhead Business and Professional Association sponsored a Merchants Fair last Saturday, which drew hundreds of shoppers. Merchants, such as Diamondhead Supermarket, set up booths in the shopping center's parking lot, to make shopping very convenient for patrons. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

State offers $1,000 for fire information

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
A reward of $1,000 is being offered for information on the person or persons responsible for a mobile home fire in Hancock County.
David M. Dry, deputy state fire marshal said, "We are seeking information on the person or persons involved with the Sept. 6, 11:30 p.m. fire of a mobile home located at 22454 Fenton/Dedeaux Road."
"A state reward of $1,000 will be given for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties involved in the origin of the fire," Dry said.
The fire is being investigated by Dry and also by Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate.
Anyone with information can call Pate at 466-4709, or the State Fire Marshal's office at 601-359-1061.
Dry and Pate said all information will be kept confidential.

Alderman candidate is concerned about board representation

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
A candidate for Waveland Alderman came before the board during its regular meeting Wednesday to ask why there were no minorities on the newly-established Civil Service Board and what could be done to add one to it.
Mayor Pro-Tem Barbara Rappold told Clarence Harris, "there is a minority on the board. I appointed a lady to the board," which brought some light applause from those in attendance.

Died Oct. 10, 1976

To one who bore the sweetest name and added luster to the same, she had a short life.

But here's no other that could ever take the place of our dear mother.

It's been 18 years since your departing, but in our hearts the hurting is only starting.

We miss your loving smile, but it still lingers, and the gentle touch of your fingers.

Some day we'll be together again, and we will think of you until then.

ST. ANN AND ST. JOHN NEWS

On Sunday, Oct. 16, St. Ann's 10:30 a.m. Mass will be celebrated at Buccaneer State Park. A family parish picnic will follow. Please mark your calendars and plan to join us. In the event of bad weather, we will celebrate Mass at St. Ann Church, and the picnic will be in the parish hall.

St. Ann-St. John CYO members will be participating in the Walk-a-Thon Oct. 8. Call the rectory for more information.

Mary's Helpers will meet 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 10 at the home of Phillip and Yvonne Garcia, Clermont Harbor. For further information, give them a call.

Isabel and Bob Crais are reminding everyone to come to the dedication of their shrine to honor St. Jude at their home on Sunday, Oct. 9 at 2 p.m.

Don't forget the Ladies Altar Society's Craft Boutique Nov. 5 and 6.

A Scripture reflection group meets each Monday evening from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall. For information call the rectory, 467-4746. All interested persons are invited.

St. Ann-St. John CYO will participate in the Walk America Walk-a-Thon. Anyone of any age is welcome and encouraged to walk with the group. Just call the rectory.

Mass Schedule
St. Ann Church, Lower Bay Road, Clermont Harbor: Saturday, Vigil Mass, 5 p.m.

Sunday morning Mass, 10:30 a.m.

St. John Church, Lakeshore Road, Lakeshore: Sunday, 8 a.m.

Thoughts for meditation:
For being saved is a gift; if a person could earn it by being good, then it wouldn't be free — but it is. God declares sinners to be good in His sight if they have faith in Christ.

Romans 4:4-5
Jesus, thank You for Your glorious gift. Your sacrifice on the cross. You have made me good in God's sight. Amen.

Charm is deceptive, and beauty is fleeting; but a woman who fears the Lord is to be praised. Give her the reward she has earned.

Proverbs 31:30-31
Father, thank You for the example of a godly woman that

You have put in my life. Give me the strength to put into practice what I have learned at her knee. Amen.

Envy is a symptom of lack of appreciation of our own uniqueness and self worth. Each of us has something to give that no one else has.

Elizabeth O'Conner
What's true of biology is also true of faith: If it isn't growing, it's probably dead. Let your roots grow down into Him and draw up nourishment from Him. See that you go on growing in the Lord.

Col. 2:7

Father Kelly will visit the sick and shut-ins Thursday and Friday. Please call the parish office if you would like him to visit you or a member of your family.

This Friday will be Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament after the 8:30 a.m. Mass ending at noon with Benediction.

Also this Friday is the Feast of Our Lady of the Rosary. October is the Month of the Rosary. All families are encouraged to pray the rosary together every day.

Federal judge to speak at Diamondhead

Judge Charles W. Pickering Sr. will speak to the congregation of Diamondhead Baptist Church on Sunday, Oct. 9, 6:30 p.m.

Judge Pickering will address the subject of crime, youth, and the role of the church. Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend.

Judge Pickering was appointed United States District Judge for the Southern District of Mississippi by President George Bush on Oct. 2, 1990.

He was graduated from Jones County Junior College in 1957 and received his undergraduate degree from the University of Mississippi in 1959. He received a J.D. degree with honors from the University of Mississippi in 1961.

Judge Pickering engaged in the private practice of law continuously from 1961 until his appointment to the bench. He served as city prosecuting attorney and municipal judge of the city Laurel, was elected to a four-year term as county prosecuting attorney for Jones County and served in the Mississippi State Senate for eight years, from 1972 until 1980.

He has been actively engaged in civic, political and religious activities in Mississippi. He served as chairman of the Republican Party in Mississippi, was the Republican nominee for attorney general of Mississippi in 1979, was president of the Mississippi Baptist Convention and was the first chairman of the Jones County Economic Development Authority.

Judge Pickering and his wife Margaret have four children and nine grandchildren.

Harris said that he represented a concerned citizens group and that there was some concern because there was no minority representation.

"The greatest number of minorities come from Ward 3, whose appointee is for two years. Ward 1's appointee is for one year, so that means that it will be at least one year before a minority could be appointed to the board," Harris said.

Harris also wanted to know the exact purpose of the board. Rappold told Harris that the board was established to hear grievances from civil service employees.

Ward 4 Alderman Stan Weidman asked board attorney Lucien Gex if there were any specifications as to how long a person had to be a resident of Waveland to be appointed to the board.

Gex said that there were no specifications as to how long the person had to be a resident of the area.

Harris also questioned the closing of the railroad crossing at St. Joseph St.

Harris called the closing "a great inconvenience for the residents of the area."

Ward 3 Alderman Curtis Colson agreed with Harris that the new route is inconvenient and possibly dangerous.

Rappold told Harris that a survey was underway to correct the problem of turning onto Herlihy St.

The aldermen said that they did not want to close the crossing, but in exchange for the land, the railroad gave them a park and cemetery property that was owned by the railroad, where residents had been buried.

The board also made several proclamations.

They proclaimed Oct. 9-16 as Military Appreciation Week; Oct. 23-29 as National Consumer's Week and the month of October as Energy Awareness Month.

The board also approved the Veteran's Day Parade, hosted by the American Legion Post #77, to be held on Nov. 11.

had been monitoring the advance of a tropical system throughout the day, and decided at 4 p.m. to close the casino's doors. Gamblers were told of the decision over the casino's public address system.

Although the barge mooring is designed to hold the vessel in winds of up to 150 miles per hour, with tidal surges over 15 feet, Baxter said prudence called for the closing. If a major hurricane were headed toward Bayou Caddy, he said, casino officials would have the Jubilee barge towed to shelter at Port Bienville.

The weekend storm was tough in itself. Violent waves tore bulkheading along the base of the barge loose -- the wooden bulkhead's main purpose is to keep silt from accumulating under the barge. Baxter said the damaged wooden bulkhead will be replaced, most likely with a metal bulkhead along the barge's base.

"Everything went real good. We were very lucky. We dodged a bullet," said Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin, noting the storm veered eastward from its originally-projected path.

Weather Service officials in Mobile had told Boudin early Saturday morning to be prepared for a storm that would deluge the area with six to seven inches of rain and a five-foot tide. As it turned out, the storm left under two inches of rain behind, with winds in the 20- to 25-mile-per-hour range, gusting up to 30 mph, Boudin said.

The sheriff's department blocked off Beach Boulevard at Lakeshore Road, and at the Paddlewheel motel about 5 p.m. as the storm rolled in. Boudin said the roadway was covered in places with about a foot of water.

Deputies stayed posted at the roadblocks throughout the night, as officials feared the early Sunday morning high tide would worsen the situation. It did, said Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, but by dawn, officials were able to reopen the roadways.

Boudin said some roads in Shoreline Park also closed during the storm. "Those roads close themselves," said Boudin. Residents of some low-lying areas, he said, are well accustomed to the need to move vehicles out of the way when heavy rains roll in.

When the storm diminished, Hancock County beach maintenance supervisor J.V. Ladner had workers busy cleaning up some of the sand and grasses that washed across portions of Beach Boulevard.

pone action on the matter until city workers could be asked to tackle the clearing project.

Thriffley and councilman Tad Black joined Farve in voting to accept the $1,000 bid from Professional Lawn Care to clear the lot. Rutherford and Scianna voted against the action.

After the vote, Rutherford asked if the city could clear the lot before actually awarding a contract to have the work done. "If that happens, it'll be a major miracle," Thriffley responded.

Scianna, meanwhile, said he would be uncomfortable with trying to have city crews clear the lot, in light of the fact council accepted a bid to have the work done.

Council agreed to leave the matter in the hands of the mayor.

Later, council went into executive session at the request of City Attorney John Scafide to discuss possible condemnation of property for sewer line easements, and potential litigation over a property cleanup matter.

this before, if we try to pass this for the entire county there will be so many people here for the public hearing against it, that this building will not be able to hold them," Kellar said.

The board said at their last meeting that they would work with local legislators to try to get a bill passed so that subdivisions or subdivision-like neighborhoods can have a leash law without the entire county being affected.

QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The long-awaited 2nd annual Gulf Coast Wooden Boat Rendezvous, sponsored by the Hancock County Historical Society, is set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Casino Bay St. Louis.

Charles Gray, president of the Historical Society, a couple months ago was almost in shock when he was informed the Bay St. Louis highway bridge would be closed for a month, including the weekend of the event.

Gray got busy fast and made several key contacts and had the bridge closing delayed one week in order not to destroy the big wooden boat show.

Boating has always played an important role in our coastal area. The first settlers, other than Indians, arrived by boat.

For many years the only real form of transportation for travel, as well as supplies, was via boats. Of course fishing still today utilizes boats.

All volunteers, vendors and exhibitors and boat owners are asked to be in costume for the rendezvous.

A special attraction will be Schooner Excursions aboard the Glen L. Swetman & Mike Sekul.

In addition to a large number of wooden boats, there will be all types of events and exhibits.

Among the many events will be a marine art contest, costume contest, storytelling, model boat contest, children's activities, marine arts and crafts and boat display.

Members of the Historical Society have been working very hard lining up this big boat extravaganza.

Proceeds from the boat rendezvous will go to the Historical Society's building fund.

The Kate Lobrano House, Cue Street next to the Hancock County Courthouse, is the headquarters for the Hancock County Historical Society.

It amazes me the amount of historical data the organization has already collected and continues to gather on our area.

Sounds like it will be a great time at the Gulf Coast Wooden Boat Rendezvous. I hope to see you there.

This weekend is a really busy one with a large number of events underway.

A highlight of the weekend is the Our Lady Academy 12th Annual International Food Fest set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The benefit Food Fest offers a wide variety of foods with flavors from across the world.

Activities get underway with a fish dinner starting at 5:30 p.m. on Friday on the school's grounds.

There will be live entertainment with such popular groups as Clem Toca & His Orchestra, Crossfire, SSC Band, OLA Music Department and others.

There will be Cajun, American, Italian, Greek, French, Mexican, Oriental, German, Western, Seafood, and other specials at the Food Fest.

There will even be coffee and beignets starting at 7 a.m. For those looking for bargains, there will be arts and crafts.

The International Food Fest is billed as serving 'The World's Finest Foods.'

I hope to see you at the Food Fest.

The annual March of Dimes WalkAmerica is scheduled for Saturday starting with registration at 8 a.m.

State Senator Bill Johnson is team walk chairman. Volunteers will meet at the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier, Beach Blvd., Waveland, and the walk is to begin at 9 a.m., said Betsy Ashman, spokesman.

It will be a 5.5 mile walk to Bayou Caddy's Jubilee. The annual affair is used to raise money for healthier babies.

For further information, Ashman can be reached at 467-5496.

Hancock High's Hawks will travel to d'Iberville in Friday night's high school football action.

The Tigers of Bay High will journey to Carriere to tangle with Pearl River Central.

St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will also be out of town, hosted by the Long Beach Bearcats.

A long journey Friday night will be for the high-flying Pirates of Pass Christian as they will be in Richton.

It has been a dismal season for the rebuilding Hawks, Tigers and Rocks.

d'Iberville looked good against Stanislaus last week, so Hancock will really have their hands full Friday night.

Hancock put up a valiant battle against Long Beach last week only to lose by four points.

The game being in the Warriors' modern stadium just adds to d'Iberville's chances.

Bay High lost a squeaker last week to Long Beach, and they will have their hands full with Pearl River Central Friday night.

A little luck could get the Tigers back on the winning track.

Stanislaus made a good comeback last week after being down 28-3 in the second quarter, but it was not enough as they fell to d'Iberville 34-18.

The Rocks have looked good in spurts and could possibly shock Long Beach with a super effort.

Pass Christian, with only one defeat on an off night this season, should be ready as they have a conference tilt at Richton.

This has been the best season for the Pirates in many years. Pass has a small squad in numbers and size, but they make it up in hustle.

Many of the players go both ways, but they have to be ready at Richton.

Best of luck to Bay High, Hancock High, St. Stanislaus and Pass Christian.

Your team needs your support, especially this weekend as they are all out of town Friday night.

Enjoy the football game.

When lumber was king

The Edward Hines Lumber Company's lumber mill in Kiln was one of the most modern in its day. This is a photo of it when it was new and located at the Jourdan River in Kiln. The mill had a capacity of 150,000 board feet of longleaf pine production a day. This photo was taken from a 1930 Edward Hines Lumber Company's Daily Reminder. It was the property of E.B. Carter at a Hines enterprise in Orr, Minnesota.

Carter noted the weather and temperature for each day, such as, 15 below zero on Jan. 3; 38 below on Jan. 8; 43 below on Jan. 9; 33 below on Jan. 20 and 22 and Feb. 14. (Daily Reminder from Hines, headquartered in Chicago, provided by Dick Kolstad of Bay St. Louis.) The Echo welcomes photos older than 25 years for publication. They will be returned to their owners.

MEC surveying the state's STARS about education

The Mississippi Economic Council is asking teachers who have been recognized by its STAR (Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition) program what they recommend for improvements to Mississippi's educational system.

The survey is being sent to 1992, '93 and '94 STAR Teachers from some 300 high schools throughout the state in mid October.

It is comprised of about 50 questions plus additional requests which solicit comments from the teachers on each section of the survey. These sections cover a broad base of topics affecting education, both in and outside the classroom. The sections include administration, classroom management, community and parental support, discipline and "teachers and teaching."

The "teachers and teaching" section is directed at various "teacher's topics" such as teacher quality, teacher's hiring standards, college preparation of teachers and teacher morale.

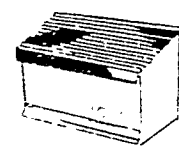

MEC president Bob Pittman said the STAR Teachers are a logical group to survey for new ideas.

"The best students in Mississippi over the past 25 years have told us that these are the best teachers," said Pittman, "so who better to ask for answers about educational success? We expect this survey to produce some fresh, innovative ideas, hopefully worthy of implementation in our schools some day."

MEC's STAR program honors the top graduating seniors from more than 300 Mississippi's high schools. Each STAR Student is asked to identify the teacher who has made the greatest impact on his/her educational success. The teachers STAR Students choose are the STAR Teachers.

Teachers chosen at least 10 times are designated as Hall of Fame STAR Teachers. An advisory panel of Hall of Fame STAR Teachers gathered at the MEC offices in August for a day-long meeting to formulate questions and categories for the survey.

Pittman said the results of the survey will be used by MEC education committees to formulate MEC policy for needed changes. MEC will present its findings and recommendations to state officials, legislators, educators and the media.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Too much analyzing on Monday Night Football

Dear Editor,

Monday Night Football is the best things that has happened to TV since 1950, but Al Michaels and Dan Dierdorf have ruined it for me.

Their constant talking and psychoanalyzing everything makes it hard to concentrate on the game.

Frank Gifford never gets to say anything, and he's forgotten more than Michaels or Dierdorf will ever learn. Every time he tries to say something Michaels and Dierdorf interrupt him.

I turn the sound down now when I watch Monday Night Football, but that does not give you a real feel for the game like good announcers like Pat Summaral and John Madden or Keith Jackson and Bob Griese do.

Sincerely,
Art Elkins
Bay St. Louis

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator
Trent Lott

Our link to economic growth

One of the most important links to Mississippi's continued economic development is the improvement and modernization of our transportation network including our airports, railroads and highways.

I have learned over the years that in order to foster economic development and create new jobs, you must have access. In the past, Mississippi did not have an adequate highway system, and our economic opportunities were limited. We had few four-lane roads and too many crumbling bridges.

In sharp contrast, Mississippi in recent years has made substantial efforts to improve its road system. At the federal level, I have worked with Senator Thad Cochran to maintain our railroads like the C&G and to improve our airports with our recently-won $7.1 million in grants. These grants will fund improvements at airports throughout the state, ranging from new aprons and taxiways to aircraft rescue and firefighting vehicles.

In the closing days of the 103rd Congress we supported the passage of the 1995 appropriations bill for transportation programs. That bill will provide $2.5 million for the design and initial engineering work on the Mississippi River bridge at Greenville.

The transportation bill earmarks $400,000 for the Pearl River bridge which connects Pearl and Flowood, and it provides almost $1 million for the new I-220 interchange at Jackson.

It sets aside a portion of the money obligated to Amtrak for dissemination to various state supported transit services, and I am optimistic that Mississippi will be able to obtain the $750,000 we need to operate the Gulf Breeze daily rail service between Mobile and New Orleans.

The bill also will contribute $400,000 toward the renovation of the terminal at the Golden Triangle Regional Airport between Columbus and Starkville.

Many more federal-state partnerships will result in new and improved highways, interchanges, and bridges to provide vital access for new industry and business. In addition to the expansion and modernization of our airports, the addition of sophisticated weather and safety systems are important to attracting and linking our businesses to the rest of the country.

As a result, Mississippi's transportation system will be safer and more reliable than ever before. It will enable us to compete in the world market by giving us the ability to travel widely and move products of field and factory efficiently and economically. In so doing, it also is giving us more choices in our daily lives.

Mississippi is experiencing economic growth because we are improving what is good, fixing what is broken, and looking at the whole picture of quality of life, education, health, transportation and industrial infrastructure from a futuristic standpoint as we approach the 21st Century.

Rappold seeks 5th term as Alderman

Barbara A. Rappold has announced that she will seek a fifth term as Ward One Alderman in Waveland's December general election as an Independent candidate.

Rappold, a native of New Orleans, was co-owner and operator of the Dixie Belles Bakery in Waveland and was first elected as alderman in 1978.

She taught school for ten years in New Orleans public and private schools, was a Waveland city secretary for many years, and is currently employed as a teacher of computer literacy in the Pass Christian School System.

Rappold said, "It has been a rewarding, exciting and satisfying experience to serve on the Board of Mayor and Aldermen and enjoy the rise of Waveland from a sleepy little town to a thriving, progressive municipality."

"While serving the people of the First Ward for the past 16 years, it has been my good fortune to meet new residents and make new friends while strengthening the bond of trust of long-time residents. My door, my heart and my ears have always been open to all to steadfastly represent their best interest with unwavering loyalty and integrity," Rappold added.

Rappold has been involved in the Krewe of Nereids for 25 years, having served as queen, and has worked with many civic organizations, such as the Waveland Civic Association, Chamber of Commerce, Altrusa Club, RSVP, Senior Citizens and American Legion Post No. 77.

She is a member of the Mississippi Municipal Association and had the honor of serving on the executive board.

In commenting about running as an Independent candidate, Rappold said, "You will not see my name on the ballot in the Democratic or Republican primary. As I explained in an earlier statement, I will run again this time as your Independent candidate. My name will be on the ballot in the December 6 General Election, and I ask for your support at that time."

Ray seeks Waveland Alderman Ward 3 slot

Danny Ray has officially announced that he is a candidate for Alderman in Waveland's Ward Three in the November Democratic primary. Ray has resided in Waveland's Ward Three for 28 years and he attended St. Clare's School and St. Stanislaus High School.

He is the owner of Ray's Movers, a local moving company and has been employed by Casino Magic for the past two years.

His community endeavours include nine years as a Waveland Auxiliary Firefighter, and previously was a Hancock County Sheriff's Auxiliary deputy.

In seeking the office of Alderman, Ward Three, Ray said, "I am committing myself to accomplish a spirit of cooperation, harmony (long overdue) and long range growth for the City of Waveland."

Ray is married to the former Jeanne Colley of Waveland, an employee of the Bay-Waveland School District. They are the parents of two sons, Christopher, a junior at St. Stanislaus and Cory, a sophomore at Bay Senior High. Ray is the son of Agnes C. Ray and the late Donald Henry Ray Sr. of Waveland.

Senior citizens to sponsor forum

The Senior Citizens Club of Waveland is sponsoring a discussion by mayoral candidates Monday, Oct. 10 at 10 a.m. at American Legion Post 77 hall on Coleman Avenue in Waveland. The public is invited.

After all candidates offer their reasons why they should be elected, an open forum with questions from the audience will be held, followed by the monthly meeting of the club.

Former Bay resident named data storage manager

Mrs. Kathy Morel, the former Kathy Kramer of Bay St. Louis, has been named manager of Western Geophysical's New Orleans Data Storage facilities.

She joined Western in 1983 as secretary for the southeastern U.S. operations group.

She later advanced to office manager and has been directing NODS activities for the past 11 years.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Ida Kramer Irwin of Biloxi and the late Jack Kramer.

She was graduated from Christ Episcopal Day School in Bay St. Louis, attended Bay Senior High School, and completed a legal secretarial course at Phillips Junior College in Metairie.

She and her husband, Hamilton, reside in River Ridge, La.

Breast cancer exams offered by HMC

Early detection is the key to survival in the fight against breast cancer. During National Breast Cancer Awareness Month women are encouraged to follow the three-step detection program recommended by physicians and the American Cancer Society.

Hancock Medical Center certified mammographer Jeanie Moran said the steps include:

- Monthly breast self-examinations
- Regular mammograms after age 40 and
- Professional examination by physician (at least every three years until age 40, then every year).

In conjunction with Breast Cancer Awareness Month, Hancock Medical Center will offer free examinations by obstetrician/gynecologist Dr. Keith G. Goodfellow Monday, October 10 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the HMC radiology department. A limited number of examinations are available, and appointments are required, said Moran.

For scheduling, contact the administrative office at 467-9081, ext. 2202.

In addition, Hancock Medical Center will distribute coupons redeemable for 20% off the hospital price of a mammogram during the entire month of October. The coupons may be used until February, 1995, and must be presented at the time of screening, said Moran.

A mammogram is low dose x-ray that can reveal the presence of small cancers up to two years before they can be physically detected by you or your physician.

The FDA-certified HMC mammography department has been ACR accredited since 1991, and Moran has watched the facility's use steadily climb.

"I feel there is an increase in awareness and acceptance in women's attitudes toward mammography," she said, "but we always need to educate further."

Hancock Medical Center will offer an expanded mammography department upon completion of the hospital's 8,000-square-foot addition scheduled to open in January, 1995. It will include a private education area, separate changing facility and special film processing unit to assure the highest quality film image.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following guidelines for early detection of breast cancer in asymptomatic women through mammography:

- A first or baseline mammogram by age 40
- Age 40-49, mammogram every one to two years, and
- Age 50 and over, yearly mammogram.

"Every woman is at risk for breast cancer, and risk increases with age," said Moran. "By following this simple three-step early detection program, many women could save their own lives."

Waveland will be First tomorrow, only if...

we put the children of Waveland First today

"My commitment to Waveland is an investment in the future of our children. I want to build for them a community in which they can be proud to raise their own families. Waveland should be filled with exciting opportunities, yet be at peace with the beauty of its past. Help me put our children first through WAVELAND FIRST."

Keith Mitchell has been a vital part of the positive growth and development of many of Waveland's young people. He's been a little league coach and soccer coach, but his commitment to our children has been far greater than that of the glory of a ballfield.

Keith Mitchell has helped children in many ways...like his work with the South Mississippi Exchange Club's Family Child Center...and his involvement as a leader in RAINBOWS FOR ALL GOD'S CHILDREN, a support/counseling program for children with divorced/deceased parents. He's seen life hit some of our children right between the eyes. He's done whatever he could to help. As Waveland's first full-time mayor, he will be able to do a lot more.

Gang & drug activity among our young people is increasing at an alarming rate. Keith Mitchell is committed to providing the right opportunities to keep our children off the streets and under the positive influences of caring adults. WAVELAND FIRST, Keith Mitchell's plan of action for our city, puts our CHILDREN FIRST by instituting a parks and recreation program that will afford meaningful activities and most importantly, minimize gang and drug activity.

As a 6th generation, lifelong resident of Hancock County with four children of his own, Keith Mitchell will put our children and WAVELAND FIRST.

ON NOVEMBER 8TH, VOTE FOR 'WAVELAND FIRST.'
ELECT KEITH MITCHELL, MAYOR.

Change in dog's routine requires time, patience

By Dr. Wynn Jones
Veterinarian
MSU College of Veterinary Medicine

"We have a 2-year-old sheltie who is crate-trained. She always has been confined to her crate when we are not at home. Lately, we have been letting her loose in the house when we are not home, only to find things missing from countertops and tables when we return.

"She never does this while we are there, so it's hard to correct her because we can't catch her in the act. We would like to offer her more freedom while we are gone but don't now exactly how to do it."

While crate-training is a good habit for your dog, it should be used on a part-time basis. You're lucky she only has rearranged a few things. Many dogs in similar situations will wreak havoc all over the house.

The problem is the result of stress. Your dog always has been put into her crate when you leave, and suddenly, her routine is changed. Changing a dog's routine should be done slowly.

Try giving your dog access to only one room and leaving her crate inside the room with the door open. This will give her access to her familiar and secure place. Then leave the house, but return in 10 minutes. In a few more minutes, leave again for 20 minutes and then return.

The idea is to alternate the lengths of your arrivals and departures over a period of time. Try to repeat this practice for as many days or weeks as necessary. If you are going to be gone for longer time than you have practiced, put your dog in her crate.

USM-Gulf Coast sets sail on new program

The University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Coast's Division of Continuing Education has begun a new program of courses and program offerings targeting the needs of seniors and active retirees living on the Gulf Coast.

Senior Active in Learning — SAIL — will provide learning and other opportunities specifically requested by seniors and retirees.

Programs will be available in credit or non-credit courses and are to be scheduled in flexible, tailored formats to best suit the needs of the targeted market. Social activities for seniors also will be part of the SAIL program.

"We're very eager for seniors on the Coast as community leaders and learners to be actively engaged with USM-Gulf Coast in this new effort," said Katherine Lochridge, director of the Gulf Park Conference Center.

"Not only do we want this audience to attend our courses and programs, but also to help us actually design our offering by telling us what they want."

Dianne Dewees is serving as volunteer coordinator for SAIL.

Surveys of Gulf Coast seniors have identified areas of interest and proposed content of the SAIL program. Ongoing surveys will enable participants to continue to be part of the overall planning.

In addition to courses and non-credit activities offered under the program, USM-Gulf Coast is creating a Frequent Learner Card that entitles a senior who registers for nine program activities to gain the 10th registration free.

SAIL participants also will have use of the Cox Library on the USM-Gulf Park campus as part of their membership, and receive special invitations and advance registration information for recitals and a lunchtime program series as well.

Membership in SAIL is free but does require registration in one event, course or activity to participate.

Seniors or representatives of organizations or agencies with activities for seniors can call USM-GC Division of Continuing Education at the Gulf Park campus at 601-865-4508 or the Jackson County campus at 601-497-5137 for more information.

Annual Salute to the Military

The 16th annual "Salute to the Military" is set for Oct. 14 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Convention Center, Biloxi.

General John M. Shalikashvili, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be the featured speaker with special guests U.S. Senator Trent Lott and U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor. The event is open to the public.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce sponsors the annual event which honors our nation's military service personnel.

General Shalikashvili was appointed the 13th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Department of Defense, by President Bill Clinton Oct. 25, 1993.

In this capacity he serves as the principal military advisor to the President, the Secretary of Defense, and the National Security Council.

Prior to his current assignment, General Shalikashvili served as Supreme Allied Commander, Europe and also as Commander-in-Chief, United States European Command.

Born in Warsaw, Poland on June 27, 1936, General "Shali"

Shalikashvili graduated from Bradley University with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

He also holds a master's degree in international affairs from George Washington University. His military education includes completion of the Naval Command and Staff College and the United States Army War College.

Upon graduation from Officer Candidate School in 1959, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Artillery.

For the next 16 years he served in a variety of command and staff positions in Alaska, the continental United States, Germany, Vietnam and Korea.

In 1975 he assumed command of the 1st Battalion, 84th

Field Artillery at Fort Belvoir. Following command and attendance at the Army War College, he was assigned to Vicenza, Italy, as the Assistant Chief of Staff, G3 of the Southern European Task Force.

After leaving Italy in 1979 he assumed command of Division Artillery, 1st Armored Division, Germany.

Returning from Germany in 1981, he was assigned as the Chief of the Politico-Military Division, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans, Department of the Army.

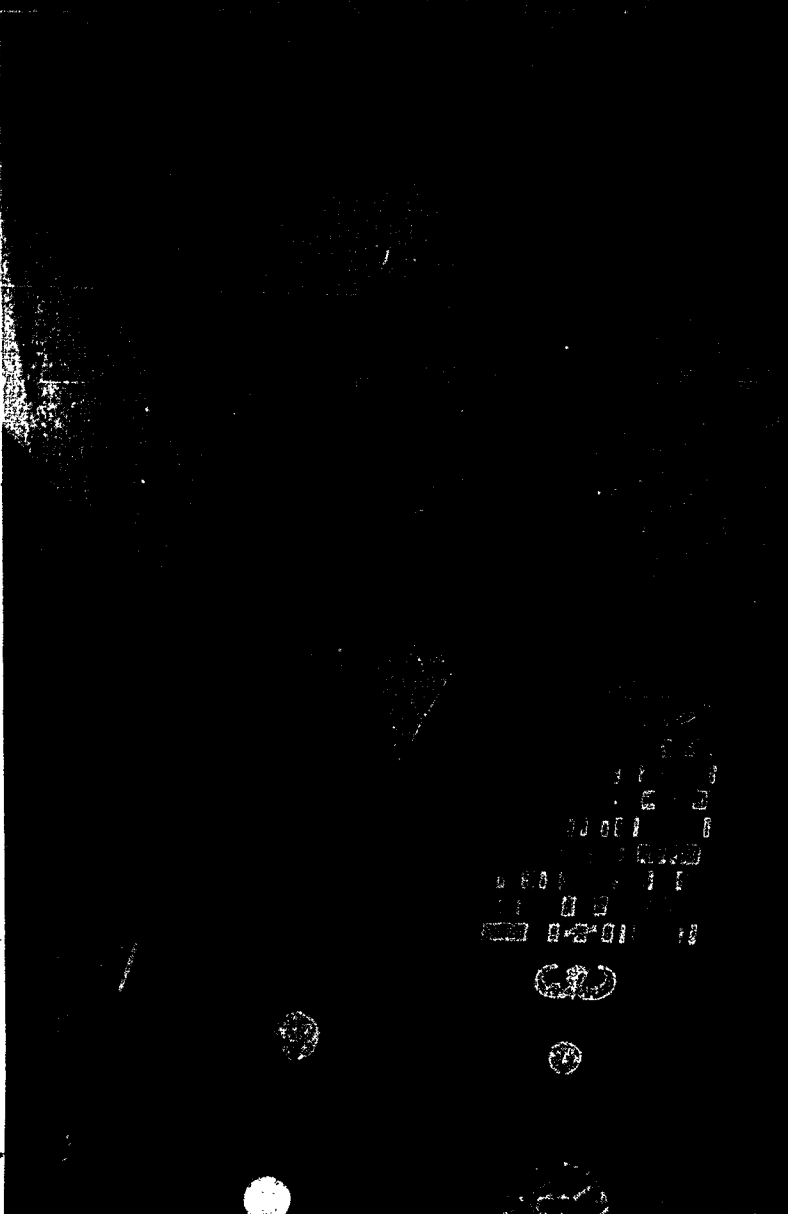

He was subsequently selected for promotion to Brigadier General and assumed duties as Deputy Director, Strategy, Plans and Policy, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans.

In 1984, General Shalikashvili once again returned to Germany and the 1st Armored Division as an Assistant Division Commander. Selected for promotion to Major General, he returned to the Army Staff as Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans (Joint Affairs) and Director, Strategy, Plans and Policy, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans.

From June 1987 to August 1989, he served as Commander of the 9th Infantry Division (Motorized), Fort Lewis, Washington.

Selected for promotion to Lieutenant General in August 1989, he returned to Germany and assumed duties as Deputy Commander in Chief, United States Army, Europe and Seventh Army.

In April of 1991, General Shalikashvili assumed command of Operation Provide Comfort, the relief operation that returned hundreds of thousands of Kurdish refugees to Northern Iraq, and in August of 1991 he returned to Washington, D.C. and became the Assistant to the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

General John M. Shalikashvili

General Shalikashvili next served as Supreme Allied Commander, Europe and Commander-in-Chief, United States European Command from June 1992 until October 1993 when he returned to Washington to assume his current duties.

He is married to the former Joan E. Zimpleman and they have a son, Brant, who is a student at Washington State University.

John Mason
Republican Candidate
MAYOR
"For A Better Waveland"

- Recently awarded the Paul Harris Fellowship (highest honor Rotary bestows upon any of its members for service to the community).
- Successful Businessman in the community for over twenty years.
- Business Administration Major, University of Washington.
- Served in the United States Marine Corps.
- Former President of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.
- Serves as Advisor to the Youth Court placing our younger citizens in foster homes.

"I will maintain an 'open door' policy towards our citizens and will strive at all times to create a better understanding and greater cooperation between city government and our citizens who must always be served, first and foremost. We must surely strive to have 'A Better Waveland', and that will be the major focus of my campaign now and in the future. I invite everyone to stop in my office during the remainder of this campaign to share their thoughts about the future of our great city. I will also strive to reach as many homes as I can over the course of this campaign."

Lasers win classic

Lasers win Select Soccer Tournament

The Bay Tech Lasers won the eighth annual Gator Classic Select Soccer Tournament at Lafreniere Park in New Orleans over the weekend of Sept. 24 and 25.

Competing in the U-16 Division the Lasers defeated the Lafreniere Sting 3-1 and the Slidell Lightning 2-1 on Saturday and tied the Mandeville Lakers 0-0 on Sunday to win their bracket and advance to the final against the West Florida Hurricanes.

In the final, the Lasers scored a goal in the first half and held the Hurricanes scoreless to take a 1-0 victory for the championship.

Rotary helps free Western Hemisphere of polio virus

The world's 27,000 Rotary clubs are celebrating their effectiveness as partners in an historic medical milestone announced Sept. 29 at the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) Washington, D.C., headquarters.

Led by Nobel Laureate Dr. Frederick Robbins, an international commission of distinguished scientists officially certified that the Western Hemisphere is polio-free.

The commission's official statement concluded that "wild polio virus transmission has been interrupted in the Americas."

Rotary International launched its PolioPlus Program February 1985, which provided up to a five-year supply of polio vaccine to developing nations. In May 1985, PAHO announced its resolve to eradicate polio in the Americas. Six years later, Aug. 26, 1991, the Western Hemisphere's last case of polio was confirmed in Peru.

Through the PolioPlus Program, Rotarians design, implement and fund the world's first private sector collaboration with the international health community.

In Latin America, Rotarians serve on both regional and national inter-Agency, Coordinating Committees which include representatives of PAHO, UNICEF, USAID, the International Development Bank and the Canadian Public Health Association, as well as national ministries of health.

Rotary clubs also mobilize tens of thousands of volunteers for national immunization campaigns throughout Latin America.

The Rotary clubs in Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead and Pass Christian all participated in Rotary International's PolioPlus program.

Freeing the Americas from polio is an important milestone in the campaign to eradicate the disease. Only one disease, smallpox, has been globally eradicated.

The revolutionary aspect of this achievement is Rotary's unparalleled injection of "people power," resources and expertise into the effort. Along with the international experts and legions of public health workers, Latin American Rotarians devote their time, ingenuity and hard work to multiply the value of the region's more than US$40 million in PolioPlus grants.

Rotary International President Bill Huntley, speaking at the Sept. 29 event, issued a cautionary note. "As gratified as we are at this historic news, Rotarians know that every nation remains at risk until all nations are polio-free."

Rotary International has pledged to celebrate its 100th anniversary, in the year 2005, in a world free from polio. The World Health Organization has set a goal of global polio eradication by the year 2000.

Rotary International is the worldwide association of Rotary clubs with a membership of 1.2 million business and professional leaders in 150 countries and 35 geographic areas. Each club works to promote humanitarian service, high ethical standards in all vocations and international understanding and peace.

12th annual Food Fest to benefit Our Lady Academy

Our Lady Academy will host its annual International Food Fest Oct. 7-9, featuring great food, arts and crafts booths, a $1,000 raffle, fun land for kiddies, a flea market and live entertainment.

The Food Fest will be on the beachfront property adjoining Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

This year's festival kicks off at 5:30 p.m. with a family fish dinner on Friday, Oct. 7. Cost is $5. Children's plates and takeouts will be available. The festival opens at 11 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. It will close on Saturday at 11 p.m. and Sunday at 8 p.m.

Cookin' up a feast

During the two days, a wide variety of the world's foods, including Gulf Seafood, Greek, Oriental, American, German, French, Mexican, Italian, Western and Cajun will be served. A new booth featuring "Bananas" will be staffed by the SJA/OLA alumnae.

Live entertainment will be featured all three days. "Fantasy" will play from 6 to 10 p.m. on Friday and from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The "Clem Toca Orchestra" will play from 7 to 11 p.m. on Saturday. Sunday's entertainers include "Montage" from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.; SSC cheerleaders from 1 to 1:30 p.m.; the "OLA Entertainers" from 2 to 3 p.m.; and "Crossfire" from 4 to 8 p.m.

John "Chappy" Chapman, chef and owner of Chappy's Seafood Restaurant in Long Beach, will again host a booth of exciting dishes from his menu of Cajun specialties.

A wide variety of arts and crafts booths will also be on the grounds. On-site camper hookups are available. For information and reservations call 467-7048.

A new attraction this year includes a double elimination volleyball tournament Saturday, rain or shine. Teams may be 4-6 persons ages 14 years and up. At least one female should be on court with a four person team, and two females on court with a six-person team.

Registration fee prior to Oct. 7 is $5 per person or $25 a team. On Oct. 8 the fee is $30 per team.

Teams may register by calling the school office at 467-7048 or 467-3205 in the evenings.

A $1,000 raffle is included in the plans for the fest. Tickets, at $1 each, may be obtained from members of the OLA student body, from the school office (467-7048) and at the festival site. The drawing will be at 5 p.m. on Sunday. The winner does not need to be present.

The OLA athletic department will sponsor a huge flea market. Dan Munger is the chairman again this year. Persons interested in making donations should contact Coach Hull at 467-7048.

Our Lady Academy uses the Food Fest as a major activity to supplement the budget by raising funds to fill the gap between tuition and the cost of education.

The Food Fest is organized and operated by an all volunteer army of teachers, parents and local friends of the school. Princess Fahey and the Teen Board of the Princess Shoppe raised $1,305 at the Fall Fashion Show for OLA. This money is used to cover some of the initial expenses for the Food Fest.

A Place of Art III

Artists to display original works

The art tour and exhibit, Place of Art III, one of the Mississippi Gulf Coast's premier fine art cultural events, will be held from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 8 and Sunday, Oct. 9, from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m.

The city of Bay St. Louis, the Hancock County Historical Society and the Bay St. Louis Development Foundation are cooperating in sponsoring the event.

During the tour the first two blocks of Main St. in Bay St. Louis will become a walking mall lined with fine art artists exhibiting and offering their original works for sale.

The tour is the second phase of A Place of Art III. A patrons party was held Saturday, Sept. 24, for art patrons, sponsors and guests to preview the best examples of the visual works of the participating artists.

The signature artist for this year's art event is Elizabeth Veglia. Her work was featured on the cover of the Artist's Directory, given to those attending the Patrons Party and Tour. Her art was also featured on the events invitations, postcards and fans.

Veglia is a mosaic artist whose works in tile and glass can be seen in New York, Barcelona, Spain, and in several Southern states. Her large outdoor creations in mosaic grace public places along the coast, including the Ocean Springs Civic Center, St. Paul's Church, and the Hancock Bank Plaza.

In addition to mosaics, Veglia creates sculpture, works in water colors, acrylics and oils.

Her work for a Place of Art III is a masterpiece of movement and resplendent color. It is entitled "Balloons Over Cat Island."

Elizabeth Veglia, "Balloons Over Cat Island"

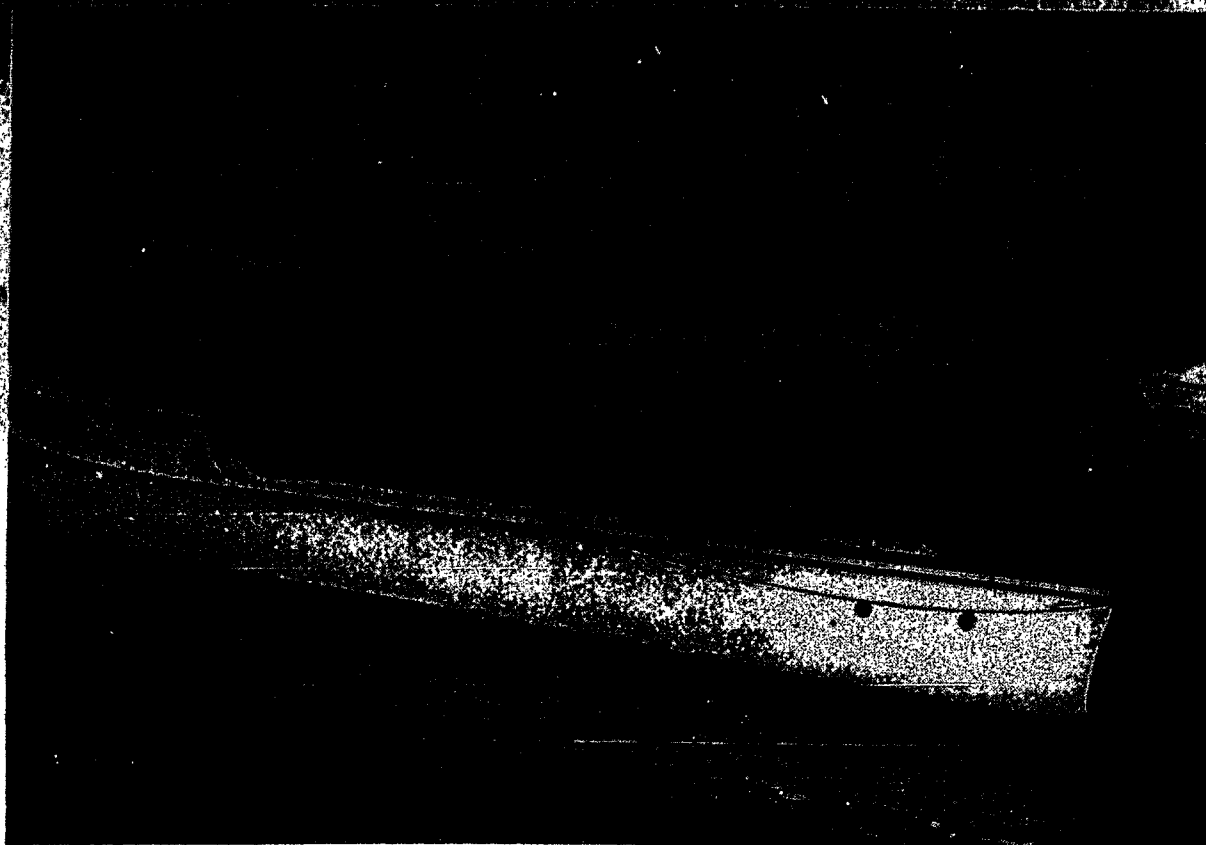

...will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Hancock County Historical Society with this year's event. From the 1800s through the 1900s, the society will go into a building to attend the Kate Parsons House, headquarters for the Hancock County Historical Society.

Invitations to participate in the rendezvous were sent out to 1,000 wooden boat owners, but the organizers feel that many more would like to share in the history and merriment, so the invitation still stands.

Quite a few boats from Bay St. Louis have registered in the last few days, Miller said, however, there is still room for trailered boats to be displayed.

He is well aware that a lot of people rebuild boats and might want to show off their expertise and swap hints about techniques they used to finish their prized possessions.

Charles Gray, president of the Hancock County Historical Society, said that volunteers, vendors, exhibitors and boat owners are being asked to add to the festive atmosphere by donning costumes from the period 1800-1818. Free admission is offered to visitors who show up in costume.

Robert Bourne's 1927 Olebert was the first flagship of the Mississippi Coast Guard

Swallow tail coats, fluted top hats and tight knee britches with loose-fitting seats, and any attire reminiscent of the era, will be right in tune with the activities. To make the effort a little more exciting, there will be a costume competition.

Antique dealers are invited to sell marine-related antiques during the rendezvous. Marine-related attractions include boat building exhibits, vendor booths, arts and crafts, an auction, art contest and a model boat contest. There will also be children's activities.

Casino Magic will be supplying many mouthwatering food items, so there will be no excuse for walking around hungry. Schooner excursions aboard the Glen L. Swetman and Mike Sekul will be available and visitors can purchase T-shirts and posters as reminders of the occasion.

Organizers want to make the Gulf Coast Wooden Boat Rendezvous the best so far and want to make sure that everyone knows the event is open to the public.

Call 467-4090 for additional information about the Wooden Boat Rendezvous.

ARTIN' ABOUT

Art tour/exhibit

The second phase of "A Place of Art III" will be the Art Tour/Exhibit and Sale Saturday, Oct. 8 from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 9 from 1 to 5 p.m.

During the tour, the first two blocks of Main Street in Bay St. Louis will become a waking mall lined with artists exhibiting and offering their original works for sale.

Interest in this event has grown tremendously year after year with more than 15,000 attending in 1993.

A Place Of Art is dedicated to featuring the exceptional artists' works of the Gulf South Region and invites the public to enjoy the historic and significant art community of Bay St. Louis.

Welty exhibit

"Photographs by Eudora Welty," an exhibit of 19 photographs, taken by writer Eudora Welty in the 20s and 30s, opened Oct. 4 in the Lucile Parker Gallery, Thomas Fine Arts Building, William Cary College Hattiesburg campus.

The photographs, which depict common southern scenes such as men sitting on the courthouse steps, school children, church scenes and the state fair, were taken predominantly in Mississippi.

The photographs in the exhibit were selected by French photographer Gilles Mora for "The Festival of Arles" in France in the summer of 1989. The photographs have gained increasing attention in recent years in exhibits, books and journals.

The exhibit will hang through Oct. 21. Regular gallery hours are Monday-Friday, 1-4 p.m.

For information call (601) 359-6920.

Arts and crafts show

Historic Ocean Springs Association (HOSA) is accepting applications for its annual juried arts and crafts exhibit to be held in conjunction with the 16th annual Peter Anderson Festival on Nov. 5-6.

The festival has been named one of the top 20 events in the Southeast. The contemporary arts and crafts exhibit will be in Marshall Park in Ocean Springs. Only 24 artists and crafters will be accepted.

First place will be awarded $500, second place, $200; third place $100; honorable mention, a $50 gift certificate from the Art Who Gallery.

HOSA is waiving its usual application fee. A 10x10' corner booth will be $125.

Applications (must be postmarked by Sept. 30) may be received from Russ Bayne (601) 872-6933. For information call (601) 875-3251 or (601) 875-9472.

Anderson Museum

"Spirit Line" will be on display through Nov. 11.

The museum is open Mondays through Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays, 1 to 5 p.m. Admission fees are $3 for adults and $1 for children over six years. Special rates are available for tour groups.

'A Place of Art III' offers Art Tour/Exhibit and Sale

Ohr Extravaganza

Local and regional artists are invited to participate in the third annual George E. Ohr Extravaganza.

The Oct. 22 event will include a juried fine arts exhibition and a juried folk and artisan market. Selected works in all media will be considered for participation in the two categories.

Cash prizes will be awarded, and winning entries in both events will be displayed at the George E. Ohr Arts and Cultural Center for four weeks after the Extravaganza.

Artists needing more information should contact Marjorie Gowdy, museum director, at (601) 374-5547.

The Extravaganza celebrates the life of famed potter George E. Ohr. In addition to art, food and fun, this year's event will serve as the official grand opening of the new Ohr gallery at the Arts and Cultural Center.

Phantom of the Opera

Andrew Lloyd Webber's The Phantom of the Opera, directed by Harold Prince and presented by Cameron Mackintosh and The Really Useful Theatre Company, Inc., will begin performances at The Saenger in New Orleans Thursday, January 5, 1995 through Sunday, February 5, 1995 for a limited premiere engagement of four weeks.

The official opening night is Friday, Jan. 6 at 8 p.m.

Beginning Sunday, July 10, 1994, at 10 a.m., telephone charge orders will be accepted by calling (504) 522-5555 or 1-800-488-5252.

New Orleans Opera

A season of action, treachery, vengeance, doomed love and some of the world's most beautiful music takes center stage as the New Orleans Opera Association announces its lineup for 1994-95.

Operas to be staged next season include:

—Elektra by Richard Strauss, October 26 and 29, 1994;

—La Boheme by Giacomo Puccini, November 23 and 26, 1994;

—and Eugene Onegin by Pyotr Illych Tchaikovsky, April 5 and 8, 1995.

The operas will be performed at the Theatre of the Performing Arts, 801 North Rampart Street (Louis Armstrong Park), New Orleans on Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

PO3 THOMPSON

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Hezekiah W. Thompson, son of Hezekiah and Shirley A. Thompson of Pearlton, is midway through a six-month deployment to the Persian Gulf aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Shiloh, homeported in San Diego.

Thompson's ship is part of a three-ship Middle East Force currently operating in support of United Nations' sanctions against Iraq. Since arriving in the Persian Gulf, Thompson has been involved in intercepting ships heading to and from Iraq.

Thompson is one of 375 crewmembers aboard the missile cruiser and has visited Bahrain and the United Arab Emirates in the Persian Gulf. During the deployment, the crew of the 566-foot-long ship with its sophisticated electronic equipment has continued to monitor the U.N. established "No Fly Zone" over Iraq.

The 1991 graduate of Hancock High School joined the Navy in August 1991.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishing. All the fishing this past week has been a little bit unusual. It seems that some new areas are producing fish where there were no fish previously. There were even a few reports of folks flounder gigging in this area.

The giggers had one main problem however. They claimed the bottom was so hard that it dulled and even broke the points on their gigs. What made this new area so unique is that you could even fish out of your car. You see, South Beach Boulevard is a paved street, even though it had a few feet of water on top of the street one day last week.

The "little" weather disturbance that passed through the area this past week caused the fishing to be somewhat on the slow side. But, you should expect the fishing to get back to great fall catching right quick like fast within the next couple of days.

And then, there is the fishin' report of Mike Calamari. He says: "Watch out, the marsh is loaded with reds. Anything you throw and anywhere you go you will catch them. The trout are knee deep."

Man, that is heavy-duty. He also says, "Please leave my trout alone in the deep holes in Grand Pass and Turkey Bayou."

One final pearl of wisdom from Mike: he claims the "Chief" uses a rattle cork for the best results.

I have been getting more and more reports from the Jourdan River area about the trout and reds that are being caught around the shore of the river. It seems the fish are especially hungry for live bait.

After looking around the area for a convenient bait store I located one on Breath's Bayou. I guess I musta' been on the blind side because there is a sign for "Jourdan Bait Shop" right at the mouth of Breath's Bayou.

Unusual fishing report

The old adage, "if it was a snake it would have bit me" really applies here.

Jourdan River Bait Shop has live shrimp and live minnows when it gets cooler and all the other "stuff" you might need or think you might absolutely not be able to live without. They have frozen-fresh dead shrimp.

I found out from Martha Carver that there is a difference between types of dead shrimp. You see, Jourdan River Bait Shop cleans their live bait tanks twice a day, and dead shrimp taken from the tanks are frozen at once.

According to Martha, this quick-freeze job maintains the "peak" of flavor that attracts the "discriminating" fish.

"Charley" would be proud. They claim that ordinary dead shrimp out of a store lose their peak of flavor. This means they attract the less discriminating fish such as hardhead catfish. Sounds good to me.

The flats right next to Casino Magic have produced some nice trout and reds for Martha using her dead shrimp for bait. She claims she caught one lemon fish in the 40-pound range at night fishing the Casino Magic flats.

I found out this area has produced some gar fish in the 90-pound range. The flesh of gar fish is a nice white color. It apparently has a taste that is somewhere between catfish and chicken.

The flesh is firm enough that you can make a whole bunch of trout-size filets out of one large fish. They can be deep fried or prepared in may of the same ways that any fish filet can be prepared.

I also found out you can get to Jourdan River Bait Shop by land. (Will wonders never cease?) Take Hwy. 603, turn on Central, which is next to Todd's Grocery. Go down Central till the blacktop ends (there will be stops signs here).

Turn left, for two block (I guess that means turn left and go two blocks, because I think if you keep turning left for two blocks you would become somewhat dizzy).

After the two blocks you turn right on Swan Street. First right after the stop sign is N. Nassau. This is the place. Don't try to go any further unless it is by boat, because the road ends here.

By the way, don't ask me how to get out, because if I did not see the sign at the mouth of Breath's Bayou I don't know if street signs would do me any good either.

The phone number for Jourdan River Bait Shop is 466-4601. You might wanna jot that number down, because if you give them a call before you want to go fishing, they say they will be there no matter what time you get there.

I know there was some other stuff I was supposed to talk about this week, but I forgot. But all the fishin' buddies know turtles are slow and forgetful anyway.

This week's wonderful wise words: I guess fish want bait that tastes good and not bait that has good taste. It seems I heard that somewhere about tuna fish from a guy named Charlie.

Disease may affect Mississippi's deer

By Bethany L. Waldrop
MSU Ag Communications

Mississippians are expecting a high number of white-tailed deer in state forests this hunting season, but a viral disease may potentially reduce the deer population in some areas.

Results from a wildlife disease survey being conducted at Mississippi State University indicate several cases of epizootic hemorrhagic disease of white-tailed deer in the state.

Dean Stewart, extension wildlife specialist at MSU, said the disease poses no threat to humans.

"The disease occurs during the late summer and early fall and it transmitted by biting midges," Stewart said.

"The disease is not transferable to humans whether by contact or from the meat of deer that have been infected."

Infected deer often appear stressed and lame with a haggard appearance. Excess salivation and quick, heavy breathing also are symptoms of the disease. But deer may be affected and die without any outward signs of illness.

Dr. S. W. Jack, associate professor of pathology at MSU's College of Veterinary Medicine, said the disease is seen every year in the southeastern United States.

"The disease is seen in the state almost every year but may be more noticeable this year for several reasons, including high deer populations," Jack said.

"The moist, cool summer also is a factor since it has been good for the insects that spread the disease."

Cases of the disease also have been identified in North Carolina, Georgia and Virginia this year. The disease is fatal in some cases. Areas with extremely virulent strains of the disease can see significant deer mortality.

Stewart anticipates the number of fatal cases to remain low this year.

"Since the impact of the disease may be density- and stress-related, landowners with high numbers of white-tailed deer should manage the herds to maintain a healthy population," Stewart said.

"Late summer and early fall are peak times for the disease, so it usually runs its course before hunting season begins."

During hunting season, sportsmen may notice uneven or sloughed hooves on harvested deer — a sign of recovery from a bout with the disease.

Jack stressed that the disease is not spread by direct contact and is not infectious to humans.

Landowners that find a sick white-tailed deer showing symptoms of the disease or find dead deer with no outward signs of disease are encouraged to contact the state Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

OLA students share experiences

Juniors and seniors of Our Lady Academy shared their educational, spiritual, cultural and athletic experiences from the summer in their classes recently.

Senior Bernice Sy participated in the Summer High School Apprenticeship Research Program (SHARP) at NASA at Stennis Space Center.

Eight weeks long, the program was offered to promote minorities in the fields of mathematics, science and engineering. "Females are considered a minority," she said.

As an apprentice, Sy was assigned a mentor, had to do a project and submit a research paper as well as an oral presentation to NASA employees.

Sy was placed in the Computer Systems Branch and given the project of developing a menu driven procurement system using the d Base III Plus software.

"I learned more than I thought I would," said Sy.

Erica Lizana and Julien Ryan, seniors and National Merit Semifinalists for 1995, participated in the Mississippi Governor's School at MUW in Columbia. During the three-week session, each girl attended a major course on philosophy or ethics and a special interest area.

They also had debates, quiz bowl competitions, a talent show, concerts and athletic competitions.

Ryan took a course entitled "The Self: Philosophical, Ethical and Social Concerns."

"To be surrounded by so many bright and talented students was unbelievable," she said.

Lizana added that the experience "couldn't be compared to any other learning environment."

Amie Geary, senior, participated in "Engineering 2000" at the Catholic University of America in Washington, DC, and according to Geary, did "neat projects involving engineering."

She also participated in Girls State with Sharon Bradley, Jenny Thomas and Lisa Pope.

In July, Geary traveled with

Julie Ladner, Lisa Owens, Marion Labat, Melissa Knight and other OLC members from Our Lady of the Gulf Parish to Saltillo, Mexico, a mission of the Catholic Diocese of Biloxi. While serving as missionaries, Geary said they "distributed shoes, sewing kits, flour, beads, candy and medicine to the children and families."

Leora Madden, OLA junior and assistant drum major for the St. Stanislaus band, joined the drum and bugle corps call the "Bluecoats" from Canton, Ohio, and traveled across the USA performing in their color guard.

The Bluecoats and other drum and bugle corps from all over the world came together in Boston in August for competitions.

The Bluecoats are ranked ninth in the world and their color guard ranks sixth.

"I was honored and proud to be chosen to participate in their color guard," said Madden. PBS will air the final competitions later this fall and a documentary on the Bluecoats next spring.

Juniors Monique Hazeur and Emleigh Jacobs traveled to New Hartford, Conn. to participate in the Trinita Family Life Program. They worked in the missionary program for seven weeks and learned a lot about the Hispanic culture.

"It was seven weeks full of hard work, fun, tears, frustration and spiritual growth," said Hazeur. "It was an experience from which I achieved daily inspiration and self-motivation," she added.

Kat Kinney, junior, participated in an "Outward Bound" program for one month in Ely, Minn. Afterwards, she attended the Tulane Volleyball Camp with Claudia and Laura Flores, junior and sophomore, respectively. Later, she attended the Tulane Basketball Camp with senior Haidi Cappie, who was rated among the top 15 out of a total of 115 players.

Anne Courrege, senior, attended the National Youth Leadership Forum on Medicine in Washington, DC. According to Courrege, "Students helped in hospital emergency rooms."

Seniors Haidi Kerbl and Beth Dillenkoff journeyed to the tropical rain forest paradise of Costa Rica. Staying with relatives of the Kerbl family, they "milked cows, washed pigs, and took tours to learn about the House increases veterans benefits

By Donald Mauffray, CVSO
The House of Representatives by unanimous vote approved to bills aimed at improving benefits for disabled veterans and their families and providing benefits for Persian Gulf veterans.

The Persian Gulf War Veterans Benefits Bill provides compensation to Persian Gulf War veterans who suffer from chronic disabilities resulting from a combination of undiagnosed illnesses commonly referred to as the Persian Gulf syndrome.

For veterans to receive compensation, symptoms must have begun before Oct. 1, 1996, or two years from the date of the person's departure from the Persian Gulf area. While the Department of Veterans Affairs

(DVA) already recognizes these illnesses as service-connected, this legislation will now make it law.

The bill provides $5 million per year for Fiscal Year 1995 through 1997 for research on Persian Gulf War veterans' health risk effects and treatment.

It requires the VA to develop and implement a uniform case assessment plan and also develop an outreach program to inform veterans of health services and compensation benefits available to them. Under the provisions of this bill an information survey of Gulf War veterans and their families is also authorized.

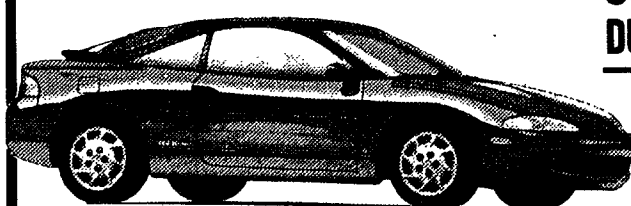

The Veterans' Disability

Compensation Bill provides for a three percent cost-of-living increase in disability compensation for veterans with service-connected disabilities effective December 1, 1994, and also increases monthly disability and indemnity compensation rates for widows and children of veterans who died of service-connected causes.

The bill allows veterans who participated in foreign nuclear tests to be compensated for any disability resulting from such radiation risk activities and adds four diseases to the list of diseases considered by the VA to be service-connected: Hodgkin's disease, porphyria cutanea tarda, respiratory cancers and multiple myeloma.

It gives you everything you want without everything you have.

Don't Be Let Down By Another Fad Diet

Most diets are nothing more than a disaster waiting to happen. Because while they may help you take off weight for awhile, chances are the weight will come back.

And along with it comes that sinking feeling that you'll never be able to control your eating habits or your lifestyle.

But the Center for Weight Management at Northshore is different. It's not a diet that lasts for a few short weeks. Instead, it's a plan for the rest of your life.

First, we recognize that you don't have a weight problem, you have a health problem, and that's how we treat it.

Through a comprehensive program that is supervised by a doctor, we teach you the skills and habits needed to carry on a healthy lifestyle, and keep your weight off.

There are no forbidden foods. Instead, we take a total health approach, with strong one-on-one emphasis on teaching you the skills you need to make healthy choices about your life. And we follow up with long-term maintenance, to make sure the weight stays off.

While no weight loss program can guarantee your results, we're certain our program is the best way to change your life forever.

So if you've had it up to here with fad diets, why not join us for a free consultation. The Center for Weight Management. It's not just another fad diet. It's a life preserver.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Eggplant

"The priest has fainted" — that's the translation of "Imam Bayeldi," perhaps one of the most famous eggplant dishes ever, which owes its intriguing name to Ottoman Turks of the 16th century!

There are many stories as to the origin of this dish, the only constant being that it is made with eggplant and olive oil, and that the Imam was a long-time ago Mohammedan priest known for his love of good food.

According to one story, the holy man was making a routine call at the home of a beautiful lady, when in the spirit of hospitality, she insisted that he partake of the eggplant dish which she had been preparing.

As she bent over to present the dish, her veil slipped. Overcome by the sight of her beauty, as well as by the aroma of the food, the holy man fainted. From that time on, the dish was known as "Imam Bayeldi," — "The Priest Has Fainted."

Another version tells of the Mohammedan priest newly married to the daughter of a wealthy merchant. The bride's dowry included several jars of fine olive oil, and eggplant cooked in olive oil was the Imam's favorite food. As he insisted that his bride prepare this dish for him day after day, the supply of olive oil ran out. The Imam was so shocked that he fainted.

Still another version holds that the wife of the Imam had lingered too long over her afternoon game of cards, hence was too late to get to the butcher shop and had to improvise with vegetables. The dish she created so delighted her husband that he swooned with joy.

Whatever version you choose, you'll like:

EGGPLANT IMAM BAYELDI

- 1 large eggplant, quartered
- 2 medium onions, chopped or sliced as you wish
- 1 bell (green) pepper, chopped
- 1 crushed garlic clove
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1 cup (drained) canned tomatoes
- 3 Tblsp. chopped fresh parsley
- 1 scant cup water

Quarter the eggplant, sprinkle with salt, and let stand until dribbles of the juices form on the pieces of eggplant.

Meanwhile, saute the onions, bell pepper and crushed garlic clove in the olive oil.

When soft-tender, add the cup of tomatoes, along with the chopped parsley. Dust with pepper and salt to your taste, and cook for a scant minute or so. Drain and wash quickly the eggplant quarters, and make a slit down the center of each, widening it to hold stuffing (the vegetable mixture you've cooked).

Fill each cavity with some of this, and place in a baking dish. Pour a scant cup of water around the quarters in the dish so that the eggplant won't scorch, and bake in a 325 degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes till done.

Serve a quartered eggplant to each person. This is also tasty when chilled, sliced and served as an appetizer.

THANKSGIVING
NOVENA TO ST. JUDE

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. This Novena has never been known to fail.
I have had my request granted.
C.L.

Montage to debut at Fest

BY CHARLEE MARSHALL

Our Lady Academy's Twelfth Annual Food Fest is coming up this weekend. The event, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the school on Beach Blvd., will feature not only great foods from many nations, arts and crafts, a raffle, flea market and a fund, it will showcase some very fine entertainment.

Among the entertainers scheduled for the day are Fantasy, the Clem Toca Orchestra, Crossfire, SSC cheerleaders, the OLA entertainers and a brand new band named Montage.

Montage consists of Alyssa Wilkinson and her cousin Tabitha, vocals; Dan Howard, percussion; Jason Hegner and Blake Werner, guitars and Jessica Sones, keyboard.

The students, aged 14-16, formed the band because of their love for music and to further their experience. They play everything from country to rock and roll and even throw in some oldies but goodies on occasion.

Tabitha explained how the group was formed. She said she was doing her singing along with a karaoke machine but was looking to form a live band to play along with her. She ran a newspaper ad, looking for others interested in forming a band and got a quick response from Dan Howard, who she already knew.

The students in Montage have been together for only a few weeks but feel very comfortable working together. The band will make its public debut at the Food Fest. They will entertain from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 9.

The Wilkinson's living room turns into a rehearsal hall for Montage when they meet for their jam sessions. Tabitha's mother, Tracy Wilkinson, is supporting the young musicians and singers wholeheartedly because she's their biggest fan. "They're very talented, all of them," she said.

Of course with any band, there are different talents and varied tastes in music among the members of Montage. Jason played in a rock band in New York and enjoys the works of Jimmy Hendrix, Neil Young,

Bob Dylan and Led Zeppelin. Dan has performed with local bands and says he likes easy listening and Spyro Gyro. Tabitha and Alyssa admire Reba McEntire's music.

Several of the member of Montage said they would love to go professional, but Alyssa said she is "not really in it for the money." She wants an outlet for her creativity to "say what I want to say."

The others echoed her sentiments, but they wouldn't mind a bit earning some cash along the way.

Mercy Day celebrated at OLA

Students, faculty and parents of Our Lady Academy joined in prayer and picnic to celebrate Mercy Day Sept. 23.

Mercy Day, usually celebrated Sept. 24, honors Our Blessed Mother under the title of Our Lady of Mercy and is a major feast day of the Sisters of Mercy, the religious community which serves OLA.

The seventh grade religious studies class presented brief biographical sketches, poems, maxims and reflections of Catherine McAuley, the founder of the Sisters of Mercy.

Some of the readings and music for the prayer service were taken from The Circle of Mercy, a collection of songs written by Sisters of Mercy from around the world. The international music project was initiated in Detroit and released this summer to coincide with the rededication of Baggot Street, the first House of Mercy, as Mercy International Center.

Junior Mary Munger and sophomores Elizabeth Byrne and Danielle Inabinet opened the prayer service with a dance, while the OLA choral music classes sang "Dancing, Singing, Circling," written by Sister Claudette Schiratti from Omaha.

Tabitha Wilkinson, freshman, and Leila Gargoum, eighth grade, each sang a version of Catherine McAuley's prayer "Suscipe" written by Sisters Elaine Deasy and Erica Marshall from Connecticut and Australia, respectively.

The eighth grade music class sang a song written by Sister Jan Hayes from St. Louis called "From Baggot Street." The entire seventh grade class and "The Circle of Mercy," written by Sister Jeannette Goglia from Merion. They were accompanied on flutes by Laura Dhuy, senior, and Karleen Lawrence, junior.

The OLA choral music classes also sang one of their repertoire, "Non Nobis, Domine." At the closing, all of the choirs and the rest of the student body sang a third version of "Suscipe," written by Sister Dolores Nieratka from Detroit.

Mrs. Inez Pope, mother of Lisa Pope, senior, made three cakes for the occasion.

Catherine McAuley founded the Sisters of Mercy in 1831 to involve women as religious in the mission of the church in the world to serve the poor, the sick and the uneducated. The Sisters of Mercy arrived in the United States in 1843, led by Sister Frances Warde, and in Mississippi in 1860.

The Sisters of Mercy first came to Our Lady Academy and Bay St. Louis in 1982 when Sister Virginia Marasco became principal, followed by Sister Jacqueline Howard during 1985-91.

Sister M. Donella Hartman, the present principal of OLA, came in 1991. Sister M. Elisa has been on the OLA staff since 1986.

In 1990, the Vatican announced that the foundress of the Sisters of Mercy, Catherine McAuley, was proclaimed "venerable," the first step in a three-step process to be made a saint in the Catholic Church.

In 1991, the Sisters of Mercy of the United States, Central America, South America, the Caribbean and Guam formed a larger institute with more than 7,000 sisters called the Sisters of Mercy of the Americas.

As a religious group, the Sisters of Mercy at the present are increasingly multicultural and bilingual and committed to a global perspective in their works of mercy. Today, approximately 15,000 sisters belong to Mercy congregations throughout the world.

Seventh grade readers were Elisah Barnette, Corri Barrett, Ashley Blappert, Cassandra Collier, Lawren Coward, Meaghan Donohoe, Lana Fillingame, Malaise Finley, Roxanne Fletcher, Erin Gallagher, Stacey Gilliam, Whitney Hamm, Lauren Hansell, Wendy Howell, Heather Hurston, Alexis Inabinet, Sarah Johnson, Holly Kirby, Christi Klein, Sarah Luster, Roxanne McCullough, Angela McGuire, Michelle Mitchell, Jamie Murray, Jodie Myers, Jessica Parker, Lindsey Rutherford, Katie Stahl and Kristen Wilkinson. Emily Taylor was mistress of ceremonies.

Sister M. Elisa Bauman, assistant principal and sponsor of Campus Ministry, organized the prayer service and prepared the readers. Joy Mehrtens, OLA music director and cosponsor of Campus Ministry, prepared the music and played the piano.

Following the prayer service in Our Lady of the Gulf Church, families of students gathered around OLA's campus for an old-fashioned family picnic.

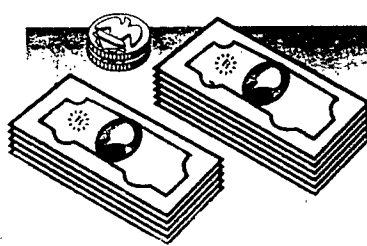

New network will help save money in education

A new telecommunications network created by the state will mean less travel time and expense of taxpayers' money, said the president of one community college.

Pearl River Community College President Ted Alexander said the Community College Network is the first statewide community college system of its kind in the nation. He and other community college officials praised the network at the third annual Hour of Educational Accountability. The meeting took place in Jackson's Municipal Auditorium this week.

The network links the state's 15 community colleges, the University of Mississippi Medical Center and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service for live video teleconferencing.

"The challenge for us is to use this technology to its utmost capability," said Alexander.

Community college officials can hold meetings and teach classes to the 17 sites simultaneously. Alexander said this will cut down on travel time and expense.

"This system gives us the potential to put our educational dollars to better use," Alexander said. "It also provides an opportunity to encourage business and industrial leadership to use this tool."

A high point of the meeting was a live teleconference linking Jackson with Hamburg, Germany. The topic of discussion was Mississippi's efforts to market its catfish and other aquaculture industries overseas.

The Mississippi Community College Foundation developed the network with funding from the Mississippi Rural Health Corps and the state legislature. Alexander is secretary of the foundation. Alexander said the network makes Mississippi a national leader in using this technology for education.

"You will see the colleges develop many more uses for this technology as we carry out the Workforce Act of 1994 and other legislation," he said.

Alexander said access to the network will benefit communities in PRCC's six-county district.

A class act

Karen Parker, junior at Our Lady Academy and a Teen Board member at the Princess Shoppe in Bay St. Louis, participated in the Fall Style Show entitled, "Class Action." The proceeds, totaling $1,305, were given to OLA to assist with the expenses of OLA's annual Food Fest Oct. 7-9. Karen is the daughter of Mrs. Pam Parker of Bay St. Louis.

All taking NCE from USM pass

Eight University of Southern Mississippi graduate students from the Mississippi Gulf Coast recently passed the National Counselor Examination, helping achieve a USM first.

All 22 USM master's degree candidates taking the NCE this year managed to pass the test used for national board certification as well as for state professional counselor licensure in Mississippi and other states.

"We've had a high percentage pass each of the years it's been offered here, but this is the first time everybody passed," said Dr. Daniel Randolph, professor of psychology at USM.

Nationally, 87 percent of those taking the NCE pass on the first try, said a spokesman for the Greensboro, N.C.-based National Board for Certified Counselors, which oversees the test.

Coast residents passing the exam were Lori Hicks, Austin Smith and Christine Smothers, all of Gulfport; Sherrie Pomierski of Biloxi; Lucy Keenan of Bay St. Louis; Brenda Taranto of Saucier; Tannis Byrd of Gulfport and Ann Luebke of Ocean Springs.

USM has offered a two-year master's of science degree in counseling psychology since 1978.

"It's extremely competitive," Randolph said. "We always have two to four times the number of applicants we have room for."

Pirates travel to Richton

BY TRACI BONNEY
The Pass Christian Pirates will invade Rebel territory Friday when they travel to Richton for their second district game of the season.

The Pirates are 4-1 for the season and 1-0 in district play. The Rebels are 3-3 on the season and 1-1 in district action. However, Richton recently defeated the Mercy Cross Crusaders, who gave the Pirates a real battle last week at Pass Christian's homecoming game.

Pirate head coach Joseph Brown said, "We're expecting another war. Any time you go up around Hattiesburg to play, you get a real battle."

"Last year the Rebels beat us 10-7. The last two years we beat them, and four years ago they beat us, so it's been a real tough rivalry."

Brown, who had just finished watching a scouting film of the Rebels in action, said of the squad, "They've got a pretty darn good ball team up there. They beat Mercy Cross 30-something to 40-something, so that tells you how tough they are."

"They have a running back who's about 205 to 210, who we're expecting to give us trouble, and they have a lanky quarterback who throws real well."

The Pirates are dealing with a few minor, nagging bruises, Brown said, but no new major injuries. Henry Henderson, who has been sidelined with a knee injury, was released by his doctor last week. "His knee is so stiff, we're going to have to get him loosened up before he can play again," Brown stated. "We're going to let him jog this week and see how he does before we start playing him again."

"We've just got to be ready to play this week, that's all there is to it. I hope the fans will get behind us, follow us up there and give us some support. They've been real good so far this season. We've been pleased with the crowds we've had so far."

Kickoff in Richton is 7:30 p.m. Friday.

High Achiever

Janell LaShaun Payne, who attends Bay High School, was named a United States National Award Winner for her position on the Honor Roll. She was nominated for the national award by her counselor, Ms. Evelyn Day. Janell will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally. She is the daughter of Richard Polk and Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Lampley. Her grandparents are Mrs. Gloria Payne of Bay St. Louis and the late Milton Payne and Mayor and Mrs. Ira S. Rocks, Tigers, Hawks look for wins this week

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The three county teams are back in action this week after a frustrating Friday night last week. All three area teams suffered defeat last Friday. The Rocks fell to the d'Iberville Warriors 34-18. The Hawks were downed by the Long Beach Bearcats 14-10. The Tigers of Bay High suffered their worst defeat this year to the Yellow Jackets of St. Martin 34-6.

All three teams will leave the comfort of home for their Friday night battles. The Rocks travel to Long Beach to take on the Bearcats. This game is also the Bearcats' Homecoming. The Rocks are 1-5 on the season and 0-2 in the division. The Bearcats have a much improved team from last year's squad. The Rocks will have a tough test in stopping the ground attack led by Avery Taylor and the aerial assault is not far behind in numbers when Chris Reinike throws the pigskin. Even allowing 34 points to d'Iberville, the Rock defense showed up and shut the Warriors down in the second half on Friday. The Rocks vs Bearcats is shaping up to be a battle. The Hawks will travel to Warrior Stadium in d'Iberville this Friday for a Division 8 Class 4A battle. The Warriors soundly defeated the Rocks last week 34-18. The Hawks will have their hands full trying to stop Warrior QB Chris Daniels and RB Keith Bradley. The Hawks will be searching for its second division win this year to stay in the race for the playoff spots.

The Tigers will travel to Pearl River Central to take on the Blue Devils. Bay High is in for a real test when they face the Blue Devils and their all-everything athlete Raphael Tillman. Tillman leads the potent Blue Devils at QB. The Tigers felt the sting of the Yellow Jackets in a division loss 34-6. Xavier Lewis, Wali Shabazz, and the rest of the Tigers will have to have an excellent game to defeat this team on their home turf.

Good luck to your teams on Friday, and see you at the game!

Runners

St. Stanislaus Runner of the Month for the cross country team is sophomore Michael Mancuso, and Runner of the Week is sophomore Matt Dillenkoffer. Michael is the son of Mrs. Helen Mancuso of Bay St. Louis, and Matt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dillenkoffer of Bay St. Louis.

Rocks finish fourth in Mandeville

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The St. Stanislaus Cross Country team took fourth place in their best meet of the season at the Mandeville High School Invitational in Louisiana.

The Rocks finished fourth out of 7 teams. The junior high team also finished fourth.

The top runner for the varsity Rocks was Scott Esher who finished in the top ten overall with a time of 17:43. The other point getters for the Rocks was Mike Mancuso, Matt Tusa, Patricio Ramirez, and Kippy Chamberlain.

The top runner for the junior high was John Rich who finished ninth overall with a time of 13:30. The other point getters were Christian Nemes, Shawn Cain, Ryan Lawrence, and Adrian Koby.

First aid, CPR classes offered

The American Red Cross is offering a standard first aid and CPR class Oct. 10 and 11 at the Coast Electric meeting room from 6 to 10 p.m.

Cost of the class is $25, and participants must pre-register at the Red Cross office on Court Street in Bay St. Louis.

Upon successful completion, participants will receive a certificate in standard first aid and CPR.

PRCC blanks East Central 42-0 looks forward to Gulf Coast

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The Pearl River Community College football team posted a 42-0 win over the East Central Warriors on Saturday. The Wildcats scored more points Saturday than they have all year in the shutout victory.

The win upped the Wildcat record to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the division. Pearl River totaled 369 yards on rushing and 107 passing yards. The team tallied 30 first downs to tie a school record.

The Wildcats opened the scoring in the second period when Jerel Posey scored from 4 yards out. Jimmy Williams, of Bay St. Louis and St. Stanislaus, kicked the PAT. Posey scored again later in the second period. This time it was from 6 yards out.

Williams' PAT attempt was good and the score was 14-0. Later in the third period, Jermaine Roberts scored from 14 yards out to cap a 95 yard drive by the Wildcats. Williams' made good on his PAT attempt. The score was now 21-0.

About three minutes elapsed before PRCC struck again.

Wildcat second team quarterback Jarvis Lipscomb hit Kahri Walker for a 40 yard TD strike. Williams hit the PAT to make the score 28-0.

As the third period neared an end, Lipscomb called his own number and scored on a 5 yard keeper. Williams split the uprights and the score was 35-0.

Second team runningback Richard Jefferson scored on a 2 yard run with 2:00 to go in the game. Williams again nailed the PAT making the final score 42-0.

The Wildcats will travel to Perkinston Saturday to take on the Mississippi Gulf Coast Bulldogs at 7pm.

Both teams have identical records at 2-3; however, Mississippi Gulf Coast could still win the state championship and Pearl River can only hope for a winning season.

Gulf Coast is averaging 25 points a game while PRCC averages only 16. However, the Bulldogs give up 27 points a game and the Wildcats give up only 11. But this rivalry is as intense as any in the country so one can forget the record and the stats. This will be a catfight. The series record is 39-22-1 in favor of the Wildcats.
